The Second Annual SheArts Network May Day Studio Sale will take place in Orleans on May 2 and 3, showcasing the artistic efforts of local women in the rooms of a restored Greek Revival home on Cape Cod.

Everything from jewelry to home décor, created by women artists ranging in age from teens to nineties, will be found there.

About the SheArt Network

The SheArt Network, a non-profit organization dedicated to empowering women through creativity, was founded by Michele Preston. Michele found her strongest support during difficult times came from her network of women friends who shared creative activities and wanted to help other women experience the same kind of caring network.

By offering a venue for these women to display and sell their work, the SheArt Network helps women members to support themselves. The SheArt Network is now working toward providing a permanent place for women in transition to meet and develop their arts in a supportive atmosphere.

The SheArt Network May Day Studio Sale

This year's May Day sale will once again be held at the historic Besse House in Orleans. Built in 1858, this Greek Revival home was opened to the public for the first time, after a two year restoration project, to celebrate the first SheArt Network May Day sale.
